The Family Circle

To assist in the promotion of Christian fellowship at the evening family circle, we suggest the use of the Bible portions and comments here given. Any converted member of the family should audibly read the portions after the meal is finished and before the members disperse for the pursuits of the evening.

Sunday, Feb. 28th—Mark 5:36-43.

The Ruler had begged Jesus to heal his dying daughter. The Lord, on the way to do so had been delayed. Meanwhile news comes, "Thy daughter is dead." Of what use now, faith in the Great Healer? "Only believe," said Jesus, and we know how wonderfully He rewarded the faith He thus encouraged. Did you believe the Lord was about to Him the whole of the loaves and fishes, not saving a crumb for ourselves! After getting His blessing they must be broken and divided, and then what would have been barely enough for one will, by His grace, satisfy many.

Thursday, March 4th—Mark 6:45-56.

Maybe you have special cares or anxieties at present and no one else is able to help you or even to understand your

LOVE INDISPENSABLE

Though I speak with many tongues,
Though by faith great mountains
move,
I can never right earth's wrongs
Without Love.

Though all knowledge I possess,
Though all mysteries divine,
I shall ever fall unless
Love is mine.

Though I all my goods bestow,
Though my body I may burn,
Naught of profit can I know
Till Love yearn.

God of Love, in me prevail!
From all selfishness make free,
And Thy Love, which cannot fail,
Give to me.

BOTH SAVED

A lonely traveler was crossing mountain heights of untrodden snow. He struggled bravely against the fatal sense of sleep which was fast stealing over him. At this crisis he stumbled against a heap that was lying across his path. He found it to be a human body half buried in the snow. The next moment he held the frozen man in his arms and was rubbing and chafing his limbs. The effort to restore another unto life brought back to himself warmth and energy, and was the means of saving both. The same law obtains in the realm of the soul. In order that our spiritual vitality may quicken into new life, we must help others in highest matters of faith and hope.

For now I know that life is great
Not by the things
That make for peace, and all that fate
Or fortune flings
Down at my feet—for soon or late
These all take wings.

I do not ask what joys or woes
Time holds for me,
I simply seek a love that goes
Out unto Thee,
As surely as the river flows
To meet the sea.

PROFIT AND LOSS

By J. G.

DO YOU THINK IT PAYS

To be courteous? Read about Abraham in Genesis 18.

To be generous? Read about Barnabas in Acts 4, and then in several later chapters of the Acts.

To be patient? Read about Job.

To be covetous? Read about Simon Magus in Acts 8.

To lose your temper? Read about Shimei in 2 Samuel 16.

To gratify all your desires? Read the story of the preacher in Ecclesiastes.

To be ambitious? Read about Joab, his rise to power and his fall to death.

To be self-seeking? Read about Ananias and Sapphira.

To fight to the end? Read Paul's last testimony as written to Timothy.

To make worldly friends? Read about Balaam.

To choose the easiest path? Read about Lot and his choice of Sodom.

To stand alone for God? Read about Elijah's victory on Carmel.

To obey conscience at the risk of life? Read about Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego.

To risk all for others? Read about Esther.

To forsake friends for the sake of righteousness? Read about Ruth and her reward.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO

SALVATIONISTS

Stand up more boldly and firmly than you ever have done for the great object for which God has made you Salvationists.

You know what that object is. You know that it is not merely the doing of certain duties, the maintenance of particular beliefs, the conducting of special meetings, or the light duties, important as those may be, but that it consists in an intelligent, practical partnership with God in the great business of saving the world.

This you may take to be:

1. The putting down of the rebellion of men against the Divine Government.
2. The expulsion of all wrongdoing from the earth.
3. The dethronement of the devils that now occupy the hearts of men.
4. The universal acceptance by men of Jesus Christ as their sovereign Lord.
5. The bringing about of the reign of righteousness, and the obedience of the entire race to the law of love.

give you what you had asked of Him, and now have circumstances arisen which seem to mock your faith? "Only believe"; He is still "able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask."

Monday, March 1st—Mark 6:1-13.

There was such an atmosphere of suspicion and distrust that His blessing could not reach these people. God never forces spiritual gifts on us. We must prepare our hearts and be ready and willing for His grace before He can bless us. Otherwise we should not be able either to receive or to keep what He gives.

Tuesday, March 2nd—Mark 6:14-29.

As long as Herod did not do the one important thing, the Devil did not care how much else he put right. A truly changed heart does not stop at small reforms but makes a clean sweep of every sin. Beware of getting side-tracked from the main point to "many things."

Wednesday, March 3rd—Mark 6:30-44.

Sometimes it is valuable to weigh up ourselves, our talents, our possibilities, to see what we can offer the Saviour. Our best is so meagre, but let us bring difficulties. Tell the Lord all about them. He is watching your "toiling," and in His own way He will give you rest and relief.

Friday, March 5th—Mark 7:1-13.

The Pharisees ignored God's command to love Him best of all and their neighbor as themselves. They spent endless time and effort, however, in observing the numberless petty rites and ceremonies commanded by the founders of their sect. So their worship lacked life and reality and disappointed both God and their fellowmen.

"Spirit of purity and grace,
Our weakness, pitying, see;
O make our hearts Thy dwelling-place,
And worthier Thee!"

Saturday, March 6th—Mark 7:14-23.

Are you hopeless of living a holy life because of the evils by which you are daily surrounded in your home or work place? Take courage from these words of Jesus. Nothing from without can soil your soul whilst you allow the Saviour to live and reign within you.

"He will make your heart His altar,
And will keep His temple clean."

WHICH PILOT?

Close-reefed we sail adown the stream
of life:

The winds and waves they buffet
us at will,

Yet each day stronger grow in noble strife

To make the entrance of our Haven still.

Each life-boat bears upon the flood but two—

The human soul, that battles strong, is one;

The other is the Pilot, false or true,

Soul-chosen—either Satan or God's Son.

THE DEVIL

Idle men do not need
the Devil to tempt them—
they tempt themselves.

Many a man will slam
the door in the Devil's
face and open a window to let him in.

The Devil tries to write the Lord's name on every barrel of whisky he ships to the heathen.

The Devil has to prize
the busy man's door open,
but that of the idler is a standing invitation to him.

Satan would like to have you content with merely being a soldier for Jesus, because he knows it is your privilege to become a saint.

GOD'S WAY

I asked Thee for a larger life,
Thou gavest me
A larger measure of the strife
Men wage for Thee,
And willed that where grey cares are rife
My place should be.

I asked Thee for the things that are
More excellent,
And prayed that nought on earth
might mar
My heart's content,
And lo! A toilsome way and far
My feet were sent.

I asked Thee for a clearer view
To make me wise;
Thou saidst, "It is enough for you
To recognize
My voice"—and then the darkness
grew
Before my eyes.

I asked that I might understand
The way of pain.
Thine answer was to take my hand
In Thine again,
Nor aught of all Thy love had planned
Didst Thou explain.

I asked Thee once that I might fill
A higher place;
Thine answer was—"O heart be still
And I will grace
Thy patience with some gifts of skill
To serve the race."

And now I thank Thee for the prayer
Thou didst not hear,
And for the ministry of care;
The hour of fear,
For skies o'ercast, and places where
The way was drear.

MONTREAL VIII
Captain Ward, Lieutenant Toms last Sunday, Mrs. Major Macdonald and Brigadier Mrs. Green led the meetings, and enthusiasm ran high. The day's fight finished with two married couples at the mercy-seat for Salvation.

DUNDAS

Captain Gare and Cadet Speers
Rousing times were held during the week-end. Sunday morning was a heart-searching time; a young man who has been a backslider for a number of years came back to the Fold. In the evening meeting the Captain gave an inspiring talk which was given an attentive hearing. A red-hot prayer meeting prevailed, and two sisters knelt at the mercy-seat. Some telling testimonies were given at the conclusion of this meeting.

MONTREAL II

Adjutant and Mrs. Martin
The Corps Cadet Brigade had charge of a recent Saturday night meeting, which they carried through in excellent style. On the Sunday Staff-Captain and Mrs. Wright were with us and a wonderful day it was. The Staff-Captain gave some stirring addresses, which went to the hearts of the people and before the meeting closed nine seekers were at the foot of the Cross. Some of these had been on our prayer lists for some weeks past. On Thursday, February 4th, the young people gave a splendid demonstration to a crowded hall. Adjutant Martin presided. During the evening fourteen Junior Soldiers were enrolled under the Flag. An impressive scene was witnessed when the young people sang on their knees, "I'll be true, Lord, to Thee." Commandant Trickey also presented forty Directory certificates. The Young People's Work, under Sergeant-Major Nelson, is making great progress.

WOODSTOCK

Adjutant and Mrs. Johnston
Our first popular Saturday night was a success. On last Sunday afternoon the Band visited the General Hospital and brought cheer to the patients by playing some of the old hymns. The night meeting was full of life. Adjutant and Mrs. Leech took part. We have started Young People's Salvation meetings early on Sunday evenings. Eight young people sought the Lord in the first meeting. The Young People's Sergeant-Major and his workers are full of faith for the future.

SYDNEY

Captain and Mrs. Howlett
Our Corps has just completed a fifteen-day revival campaign under the direction of our Officers. Splendid crowds gathered at the meetings. Our souls were strengthened, and sixteen men and women sought and found the Saviour. Among the speakers at the various meetings were Staff-Captain Owen, Adjutant Hillier, Ensign Kettle, Captains Mercer, MacGillivray and Down.

MONCTON I

Commandant and Mrs. Hargrove
The week-end meetings were conducted by the Corps Cadets and right well did they acquit themselves. To various Cadets was assigned the responsibility for the different meetings. In the morning four seekers sought the Blessing of a Clean Heart. A bright meeting took place in the afternoon, and at night, following the Cadet's appeal to the unconverted, four seekers sought and found Christ. The week-end meetings, conducted by Commandant and Mrs. Hargrove, were occasions of much usefulness and resulted in seven seekers.

KEMPTVILLE

Captain Kimberly, Lieut. Keeling
During the week-end, January 23rd and 24th, we had with us Ensign Stevens, of Ottawa. The Ensign spoke to the children in the Company meeting, it being Decision Sunday, and two young people sought the Saviour. We have recently introduced the Sand Tray into our Company meetings which proves quite an attraction. On Wednesday, January 27th, Commandant Urquhart, of Ottawa, gave a musical program which was keenly relished. Staff-Captain Best made an able chairman.

RENFREW

Captain Taylor
For the week-end of January 23rd and 24th, Staff-Captain Best was with us. On Sunday morning one seeker claimed the Blessing of Holiness. The Company meetings in the afternoon were well attended, as was the Salvation meeting, when five seekers found Christ. The following Friday night, in the Young People's meeting, two young people knelt at the mercy-seat. On Saturday and Sunday, January 30th and 31st, Commandant Ash conducted the services, his visit proving an inspiration to all. Congregations are increasing, and God is blessing our efforts.

PETERBORO

Field-Major and Mrs. Higdon
Saturday night "populars" have been commenced here, the Band being responsible last Saturday, when a good Musical Program was presented. The Bible reading was given by the Band Sergeant. Sunday's meetings were full of blessing. Mrs. Higdon's lesson at night was convicting and two seekers were registered. At Brownton Outpost the work continues to make splendid progress. In connection with the Young People's Work, a Scout Troop has been organized, under the leadership of Scout Leader H. Barton, his assistant being F. Blain. Sunday's meetings were again very helpful. In the evening a glorious time was experienced and twelve seekers knelt at the mercy-seat.

THE COMMISSIONER

OPENS

NEW INDUSTRIAL STORE AT MONTREAL

On Thursday afternoon, February 11th, the Commissioner, who was supported by Colonel Morehen, the Territorial Men's Social Secretary, and Mrs. Morehen, opened the new Industrial store on Chatham Street, Montreal.

In addition to the above, the speakers included Colonel Adby, Lieut.-Colonel Clark, International Auditor, Brigadier Pinchen, Major Byers, Major MacDonald, Mrs. Field-Major Parsons, Staff-Captain Hollande, and Ensign McBain. Brother Alex Wintle, paroled lifer, now a full-fledged Salvationist, was one of the happiest of the employees present at the tea, so charmingly arranged by Mrs. Major Byers and her Staff, and enjoyed by over a hundred persons.

The large new store is well lighted, and splendidly equipped for the growing business in books, clothing, furniture, etc., for Montreal's unfortunate and unemployed people.

The store recently opened in the north end of the city (St. Hubert St.) is doing well, with Captain Mathieson as manager. The Men's Metropole on St. Alexander Street, which provides for two hundred men daily, continues to be a great boon to many organizations who have stranded men coming to them. One of the men here is a respectable old man, whose funds were used up, and who, as a consequence, contemplated suicide. He was handed over to the Police Court Officer, and is now doing splendidly at the Metropole.

Judge Monet recently commended the Police Court Work of The Army in Montreal, in a glowing manner. At the annual meeting of the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association, the Secretary, Mr. John Kidman (Montreal Gazette) expressed the thanks of the association for the co-operation and assistance given at the Courts, and also in handling the discharged prisoners sent to The Army for clothing, food and shelter.

Preliminary Notice

THE COMMISSIONER will conduct

FAREWELL OF

THE CHIEF SECRETARY AND MRS. POWLEY

AT THE TEMPLE, TORONTO

on THURSDAY, MARCH 4th

INGERSOLL

Adjutant and Mrs. Cavender
A special Holiness campaign is being held this month, meetings being held every night of the week. These special services were commenced on Sunday last with very good congregations at both morning and evening sessions. The Adjutant gave some distinctly helpful addresses, pointing out especially the fact that the desire for soul-saving is the secret of the successful Corps. This subject is to be followed on the Monday night by the "Qualifications of a Soul-Winner," and on the Tuesday night by "The Soul-Winner, Himself." Much expectancy is in evidence in the Corps for great blessings during this campaign, for the sanctification of God's followers and the restoration of the backsliders.

LONDON III

Ensign and Mrs. Kitson
Meetings full of spirit were held last Sunday. The Company meetings show signs of progress. The Salvation meeting at night, in which the Ensign gave an earnest address, closed with two seekers for pardon.

HAMILTON V

Captain Rogers, Lieutenant McMillan
A large gathering was present to give a hearty welcome to Captain Rogers and Lieutenant McMillan. The meetings were full of Heavenly light and one wanderer returned to the Fold.

LIEUTENANT FRANCIS EVENDEN, CROWNED!

glowingly of the promoted Officer's dogged perseverance and of his willing acceptance of all responsibilities. Most touching was the request of Bandsman Evenden, Sr., that all those present of the "gang" of which Francis was a member, should re-consecrate their lives to God around the casket. It should be explained that the "gang" is understood in Hamilton to refer to about thirty young people of the Corps who were once banded together as staunch chums, before their ranks were depleted, fourteen answering the Call for Officership, six of whom are now on foreign service. Many responded and sang with clasped hands, "Shall we meet beyond the River?" One seeker volunteered.

For the Memorial service, conducted by Ensign Winnie Jones, the Citadel was again filled. Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel McAmmond, representing the Officers and comrades of the London Division, described tenderly her conversation with Francis just prior to his death, and of the absolute confidence she and the Colonel had always reposed in him. "He was sent to hard Corps," said she, "but we never knew him to complain; and we also knew that he was loyally standing by the interests of The Salvation Army."

Bandmaster Walno also spoke and Captain Jesse gave a brief address. In the subsequent stirring battle for souls, led by father and sons, fourteen yielded. What more fitting memorial to Lieutenant Francis Evenden!

MRS. COMMISSIONER SOWTON and TERRITORIAL HOME LEAGUE SECRETARY

Stimulate Lansing Womenfolk

At Lansing, on Wednesday afternoon, Home League members had a welcome surprise, for, finding herself with a free afternoon, Mrs. Sowton, whose interest in the League is well known, had come along, unannounced, with the Territorial Home League Secretary.

The distinguished visitors were as surprised as they were delighted with what they saw of Lansing's fine Home League which is going ahead in proper style under that energetic Secretary, Sister Mrs. Nixey. In the short time she has busied herself with League affairs there has developed a branch of this influential movement of which any Secretary might well be proud.

The womenfolk immensely enjoyed the afternoon's gathering, the practical and spiritual counsel offered them by both Mrs. Sowton and Mrs. Powley being very keenly appreciated, and the hour proved to be one packed full of profit.

The Territorial Home League Secretary visited Danforth the following afternoon, there to conduct the spiritual meeting. Here again a fine company of Leaguers assembled. Mrs. Powley's address, in which she dealt with matters vital to the spiritual and temporal welfare of her hearers, was intently followed and keenly appreciated by these happily-busy women.

THE KOREANS

FROM TRIUMPH TO TRIUMPH

The party of Koreans, under Major and Mrs. Hill, who are at present campaigning in the Territory, are giving Canada East one of the thrills of its history. Everywhere accommodation is being taxed to its utmost; and the fortunate folk who find admittance to the stirring meetings remain entranced often for three hours on end—and then are reluctant to let the visitors go. That renewed interest will be awakened in The Army's wonderful missionary enterprise is a matter upon which there can be no two opinions. Fortunate, indeed, are the folk who are on the line of their triumphant march.

BANDSMEN'S DAY

Bandmasters and Bandsmen will hail with delight the announcement of the Bandsmen's Sunday, to be conducted on March 14th by the Territorial Commander in the Training Garrison auditorium. Afternoon and evening sessions have been programmed.

Remembering similar events of the past, the men who handle the brass will make no mistake about noting the date in their diaries, and begin to pray for a season of spiritual uplift. The occasion will furnish a welcome opportunity to withdraw from the hustle and bustle of the battle-line for a period of quiet reflection and soul-reinvigoration.

PALMERSTON

Captain Janaway, Lieut. Wilder

Last week-end's meetings were a source of inspiration. Lieut.-Colonel McAmmond was at the helm, ably assisted by Staff-Captain Sparks, and Officers from surrounding Corps. The Holiness meeting was a real feast. On Sunday afternoon, Staff-Captain Sparks gave an interesting address to the Juniors, after which, in the Library Hall, Commandant Hurd gave an address, over five hundred people being present. Mayor Treleaven presided, assisted by the Town Council and various ministers. On Sunday night, one sinner came to the Cross. The Colonel met the Officers in council on Monday afternoon, and the final meeting took the form of a musical service, given by seventeen Officers and assisted by the Listowel Band.

PERSONAL PARS

Commissioner Hay, of South Africa, who has been very unwell for some time, and especially since the recent Territorial Congress at Johannesburg, is now on furlough, the General having arranged for him to have a period of complete rest and quiet. We are sure comrades will remember Commissioner and Mrs. Hay in faith and sympathy.

Commissioner and Mrs. Lamb, who commenced their present world tour in Canada, are now campaigning in New Zealand.

Commissioner and Mrs. Larsson recently undertook the trying journey across the Andes to Chile and back for Officers' meetings; they also conducted the third annual Congress on the Pacific Coast.

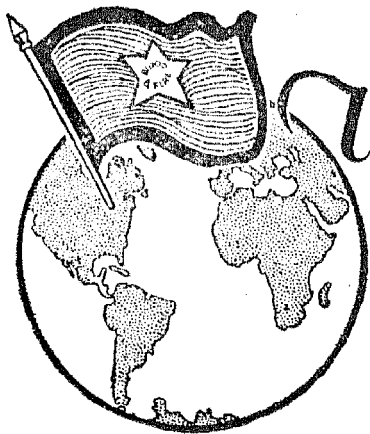

Commissioner de Groot is delighted with the splendid result of the recent "One More" Campaign in Switzerland, during which two thousand seekers knelt at the penitent-form.

Commissioner and Mrs. Richards celebrated, during this month, forty-five years of Army service, they having entered the Work together from Merthyr in 1880. The congratulations of comrades everywhere will be extended to these well-tried and well-traveled veterans.

It is regretted that the health of Mrs. Lieut.-Commissioner Toft, of Northern India, is far from satisfactory. A Swede by birth, Mrs. Toft's name appears among those admitted to the Order of the Founder, this distinction having been awarded to her for work amongst the deaf and dumb people of her own country.

Staff-Captain Dora Booth has had the misfortune to break a knee cap as the result of a cycling accident. The Staff-Captain, whose characteristic energy is well-known, is greatly distressed at having to take an enforced rest during the Self-Denial Effort, in which she had hoped to participate actively.

A cordial interview was recently granted by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, Lord Lytton, to Colonel Jaya

SAVING SWARTHY SUGAR PLANTERS

Salvationism among the fair isles of the West Indies is as real as that found in The Army's birth.

This widely scattered Territory embraces Jamaica, Cuba, Panama, British Honduras, Barbados, the Leeward Islands, and Honduras. Work has also been recently started in Dutch Guiana.

A typical and worthy West Indies Local Officer is Sergeant Ifill, of Preston de Cuba. The community in which he labors consists of about 2,000

A successful feature of Salvation Army work in South Africa is the Rondebosch Social Farm, and some of the stories associated with the place are both charming and pathetic.

Lieut.-Colonel Lotz, Manager of the Farm, has given us some illustrations of the work accomplished there. He says:

"Some time ago I conducted a Salvation Meeting in Roeland Street (Capetown) Prison. In the audience I noticed a European prisoner, whose and passed away leaving an assurance that all was well with him."

Continuing to recount his experiences the Colonel tells of a Christian worker, for whom alcohol was prescribed by his medical adviser. Accepting the suggestion the man became an inveterate drunkard. It was arranged for him to be taken into The Army's care at the Social Farm. In describing his advent the Colonel says:

"He was in a deplorable condition, more suggestive of a lunatic than an inebriate. For days he had to be carefully watched and nursed, and on one occasion when left to himself for a few minutes he attempted suicide.

people, who are employed and housed on a large sugar estate. Unfortunately at present the Corps there is disadvantaged by the absence of a hall, but the comrades undauntedly carry out their programme in the open-air; nor does the weather hinder them. A pleasing ceremony at one of these outdoor meetings was the presentation by the Sergeant of a Corps Flag, for which he had raised sufficient money among his friends.

The swarthy workers amid whom Sergeant Ifill moves in pursuit of his secular employment or his self-imposed Salvation duties, offer him the highest respect.

The Sergeant is not a native of Cuba. Fifteen years ago he left "Little England" (as Barbados is locally known) and migrated to Panama. Ten years later he transferred to Cuba, where he has since remained, greatly to the advantage of the Preston Corps, for he is most loyal and regular in his devotion to the work. Beside conducting and assisting at the open-air meetings, our comrade has undertaken responsibility for visiting the homes of the people in the district, a task which demands no small sacrifice to one employed all day in the tropical heat at so tiring an occupation as sugar planting.

Yet he delights in nothing better than to serve God in this way, spending most of his leisure time in his uniform, at open-air meetings and visiting his comrades. That all who know him are impressed with his sincerity is partly responsible for his great success in collecting.

There is a "real live Army" in South Africa, and this picture gives an idea of what a Congress open-air gathering of Mashona Salvationists is like.

face I recognised. At the close of the meeting this man whom I discovered was serving a term of hard labor, requested the privilege of an interview, and this I gladly granted. What a story he unfolded! Twenty years previously, he reminded me, he had been well placed in a flourishing suburban business. At that time he lived happily with his wife and family, and was well known and highly respected in the district. Intemperance alone dragged him from that position, and at the time we met he was the occupant of a felon's cell, separated from loved ones, and destitute of good character.

"At that interview he begged to be allowed to come to the Social Farm at the termination of his sentence, and accordingly he presented himself there on his release. Shortly after his admission he sought and found Salvation and from that time he never looked back.

"One day, seized with sudden pain, he passed away. His dear ones who attended the funeral were delighted to know that he did not die as an outcast, in drunk dishonor, but had been reclaimed through the outstretched hand of The Salvation Army,

Just in time one of our men arrived and snatched the blood-stained knife from his grasp.

"But by the blessing of God he gradually came to himself, and improved mentally, physically, and spiritually. He later gave his heart to God. On leaving the Colony for a good situation, some months later, he wrote the following letter to Colonel Lotz:

"In looking back upon the past four and a half months I find that words fail to express my feelings of gratitude for the wonderful change which God has mercifully wrought in me. . . For eighteen years I had been welcomed into the best society in Cape circles, but, with two exceptions, those I might reasonably have hoped would stand for me, forsook me in my hour of urgent need. Many whom I have helped financially forgot me entirely, but I value and appreciate what has been done for me during my stay on the Farm. May God richly bless the noble efforts of The Army."

Veera (Ewens). The Governor expressed in warmest terms his admiration for the work of The Salvation Army.

Forty-six Cadets have recently been commissioned in the Southern India Territory by Lieut.-Colonel Priya (Mrs. Trounce).

Lieut.-Colonel Coles, Chief Secretary for South America, recently visited Tucuman, the most northerly town in the Argentine Republic. Enthusiastic meetings resulted.

For many years connected with the Women's Social Work in the United States, Lieut.-Colonel Clara Van Der Schouw, of the Eastern Territory, has arrived in England for a two months' study of Women's Social operations there.

After some month's study of up-to-date Army methods in England, Major Uyemura has returned to Japan, in which Territory he will be Training Garrison Principal.

Staff-Captain (Dr.) Bahadur (Noble) is at present treating the father of the Maharani Regent, who is an in-patient of the Catherine Booth Hospital, Nagercoil.

PROMOTED TO GLORY

SISTER CREWE,
ELLISTON, NFLD.

The Grim Reaper has once again visited our little Corps and taken a much-loved Soldier in the person of Sister Crewe. All through her life she was respected and honored by all who knew her, and the crowd that attended the funeral and memorial services, evidenced the high esteem in which she was held.

The services were conducted by Captain Heath, the Corps Officer, who seized the ripe opportunity of impressing the people with the necessity of getting right with God. The memorial service was conducted the following Sunday, when many spoke of our late comrade's beautiful life; among the speakers being Envoy Cole, Brothers J. Porter and J. Crewe, Sister R. Porter and Sergeant-Major Hobbs. Much conviction was felt throughout the service, and when the invitation was given one woman, with her little girl, knelt at the Cross.

SISTER MRS. HARRIS,
NEW CHELSEA, NFLD.

Quite recently we laid to rest a highly respected Soldier of this Corps, Mrs. Joseph Harris. The writer, while visiting her, found her trusting Jesus, her best Friend. She could not always speak, but when she gained sufficient strength she would tell some member of the family that she had a blessed hope or that she would soon be in Heaven.

The funeral service was conducted by Adjutant Peach, from Hant's Harbor, the service proving impressive. As a result, one of our promoted comrade's daughters was gloriously converted the following night. Our prayers are with the three bereaved daughters and two sons.

BROTHER RICHARD PELLEY, HANT'S HARBOR, NFLD.

On January 8th, Brother Richard Pelley was called to his eternal reward. Some months ago, in a Sunday morning Holiness meeting, he gave himself to God. His end was very peaceful. He had an unbounded trust in God, and although his "lamp was lighted late," he felt assured of an abundant entrance through the gates into the City. To the bereaved relatives the comrades extend their sympathy.

RIVERDALE'S
HOME LEAGUE ANNUAL

Mrs. Colonel Powley Presides

The annual Riverdale Home League Tea took place last Wednesday evening. There were several pleasing features that contributed to the enjoyment of the event, among which was the presence of Mrs. Colonel Powley, the Territorial Home League Secretary, Mrs. Colonel Jacobs and Mrs. Staff-Captain Cameron. The very healthy annual statement, which was read by Mrs. Ensign Green, revealed some gratifying facts. The amount received by Sales of Work was $475.00; there was contributed to the General's Birthday Scheme $100.00; to the new building fund, $225.00; and to the relief of the needy $50.00.

A very helpful and interesting program was afterwards rendered by Home League members, their husbands and children. Mrs. Staff-Captain Cameron, in well chosen words, introduced Mrs. Colonel Powley, who in her usual genial manner presided over the gathering, and spoke of the untold value, and the increasing usefulness and blessing of the Home League, its power in the individual and family life, and the soul-saving results attributed to its efforts.

Mrs. Colonel Jacobs also spoke on the "Value of the Family Altar." A very profitable and helpful annual was brought to a hallowed termination by a number of the Bandsmen playing "Jesus alone can satisfy thee."

Wednesday, July 8th, 1925.—In Paris. To the British Embassy. Quite a palace. The Marquess of Crewe's Secretary very cordial. Some glorious portraits in the reception-room. Lord Crewe came in presently; very warm. Seemed quite pleased to see me, and though nervous, very cordial. Driving in his car to the Elysee, spoke of the Founder. He seemed quite moved. I said, "My dear father, whenever he spoke of you, used almost the language of affection." "Yes, yes, he was my friend—my friend." I think I caught a note of deep appreciation for counsels given long ago.

The Elysee—the great Napoleon's favorite residence in Paris. A gorgeous pile; rooms unequalled; and the gardens at once the most enchanting and uplifting I have ever seen. I could not refrain from saying, while we waited for our interview, "Well, the President has a very nice flat!" Lord Crewe seemed quite tickled.

But we are called, and with the Ambassador and Peyron, I find myself boat stopped at a certain port, and two or three Salvationists in uniform came on board, one of whom spoke very earnestly to him of eternal things; he would always remember it. Photoed with Lord Crewe.

Afternoon, crowded meeting at the Shelter — Palais du Peuple. Very representative gathering. Lord Crewe and the Acting Ambassador for the United States (Mr. Whitehouse) spoke, and Monsieur Yvon Delbos, Under Secretary for State, presiding, thanked me and The Army for this work. "Here, near this spot, Christianity first planted itself in Paris, and to-day we witness your effort to bring its solace and its spirit to the most needy."

Evening meeting very happy. Promoted Peyron to be Commissioner, much to the joy of all present; also Brigadier Dejonghe, Secretary of the Social Work, who, with his wife, has done well.

Thursday, 9th.—Left Paris at 8.25 this morning with Smith. Cliffe gone on furlough. Worked for a couple of Coal dispute presents a novel problem. Why do not the employers educate the men? An anxious wire from Peking; what a pickle they are in! Delightful messages from Stockholm and Berlin Congresses. We are going ahead!

Left for home at 6.30, tired out, and beyond interview with Smith and arranging some of my papers did nothing further. In my bed by 10 o'clock.

Saturday, 11th. — With Smith at I.H.Q. 10 o'clock.—Wonderful collection of photos showing our Work in China to hand to-day. — Letter from Brengle (Colonel, U.S.A.) submitting MS of new book—which, at a glance, I can see I shall like. So thankful he is still able to write. The Lord guide his pen and keep his heart!

Some Municipalities in the United Kingdom have been giving us trouble in seeking legislation to control open-air meetings. A local Bill for Rochdale passed to-day, but its powers are limited so as to deal only with processions "other than those which are periodically organized and formed by The Salvation Army."

The glory of God! "He which glorified Me." How strong! How precious! How true! The late Canon Liddon's last sermon was preached from this text, and his concluding words remain with me:

All that wins from the Divine Redeemer more room in the thoughts of men; all that secures for Him the homage of obedient and disciplined wills; all that draws from the teachings of the past and the examples of the present new motives for doing Him the honor which is His personal due may be safely pronounced to come from a Source higher than any in this passing world and to have a promise in it of everlasting happiness and peace.

Monday, 13th.—At 9 o'clock to Mothers' Hospital, Clapton. Commissioner Cox met me, and together we went over the program for the Queen's visit.

Pleased with the place. The cost of the new additions is £17,000, and the debt on the whole is now £16,000. It is a striking incident that "Punch" makes an appeal for this work in its current issue.

On to I.H.Q. Letters from F., now in Helsingfors, good.

Mr. Frost (Solicitor) and Chief Conference on Norwegian property settlement. New legislation there affects our position. Mr. F. goes to Oslo to-morrow.

An indwelling Saviour. It is a gracious thought. When John's disciples asked Jesus "Where dwellest Thou?" they only expressed a common feeling. I greatly treasure those lines of Henry Vaughan:

My dear, dear God! I do not know What lodged Thee then, nor where,
nor how;

But I am sure Thou dost now come
Off to a narrow, homely room;
Where Thou, too, hast Thy humble part;

My God—I mean my sinful heart!

Wednesday, 15th. — Journeyed to I.H.Q. with the Chief. Many important appointments before us. My hourly prayer is for wisdom — the wisdom of God.

Foreign Service Councils; especially close attention to-day to affairs in China, Korea, South America, and the West Indies.

Reading "Trial of the Seven Bishops." They made a brave fight for righteousness. There was the right spirit in them.

greeted in the most hearty fashion by the President of the Republic. He looks just what he is—a straightforward man of the people; comes of the land, loves the countryside, but knows something of the world. After the Ambassador had introduced me, he translated for the President, and Peyron for me.

We were soon hammering away. The President expressed his great pleasure in our schemes for the homeless, and the hope that we would do still more. THE COMMISSIONER will conduct the farewell of the Chief Secretary and Mrs. Powley at the Toronto Temple, on Thursday, March 4th, at 8 p.m.

As announced elsewhere the Commissioner will conduct Councils for Bandsmen of Toronto at the Training Garrison Auditorium on Sunday, March 14th. Two sessions will be held, commencing at 3 and 6.30 p.m.

On Thursday, March 18th, the new Chief Secretary and Mrs. Henry, and the new Field Secretary, Lieut.-Colonel Taylor, will be welcomed in the Temple.

Our Territorial Leaders have received a further cablegram regarding their son, Captain George, who was successfully operated upon last week. That he is "doing splendidly" makes us rejoice with them.

Staff-Captain Owen recently addressed the Y.M.C.A. Men's Club of Sydney, his topic being "The Salvation Army."

Brigadier Alex. Crichton (retired) is again very unwell, and the health of Mrs. Commandant Coy continues to be a source of anxiety. Continue to pray for these comrades.

Captain Alfred Fisher has been transferred to the Eastern U.S. Territory.

Ensign Nettie Stevenson has been appointed to the Chief Secretary's office.

Captain Mary Yost, who, for the past two years has done excellent work in the Chief Secretary's office, is relinquishing her duties in that connection and will be married, by Colonel Aaby, to Captain Alex. Bunton, of Galion, Ohio, at North Toronto, on Thursday, February 25th.

Ensign Mabel Scott has been appointed to Trenton; Lieutenant Winnifred Youngs to assist at Hamilton I; Lieutenant Clarence Wheeler to assist at Dundas; Captain Doris Lightowler to Todmorden. Captain Ivy Allen, late of Ottawa Hospital, has been transferred to the Field and appointed to assist at Renfrew.

Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Attwell are to conduct the Anniversary services at St. Catharines on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 27th and 28th. The Colonel had charge of this Corps thirty years ago and was married there.

Commandant and Mrs. Barry, retired, have been welcomed as Soldiers of Fredrickton Corps.

Bandsman and Mrs. Evenden, of Hamilton I, express through the medium of THE WAR CRY, their deep appreciation for the many messages of condolence received in connection with the passing of their son, Lieutenant Francis.

The late Adjutant Chambers, it is now learned, was stationed at Thedford prior to his enlistment in the 149th Battalion, a fact of which the comrades of that Corps are justly proud.

Brock Ave. Corps, will hold a Home League Sale, commencing at 3 p.m., February 23rd. This will be followed in the evening by a program of music.

Lieut.-Colonel Hargrave, who, acting upon medical advice, has been in the United States for a few weeks, recuperating, has so far recovered that he is expecting to commence his duties as Special Efforts' and Subscribers' Secretary at the end of this month.

Adjutant Spooner met the Life-Saving Scout and Guard Leaders of Montreal City in council last week. About twenty were present and a useful time was spent.

WANTED
Floor, or machine moulders, foundry laborers and a tool maker. Applicants must be Bandsmen in good standing. Communicate with Ensign Friend, Box 323, Smith's Falls.

FOR SALE
Complete set of Numbers 2 and 3 Band Journals. Write Captain Warrander, 666 Brock Avenue, Toronto.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COUNCILS IN MONTREAL

Our Territorial Leader

MEETS IMPRESSIVE REPRESENTATION OF YOUTHFUL SALVATIONISTS

DEMONSTRATIONAL DELIGHTS—STIMULATING SESSIONS YIELD SIXTY SEEKERS—HELPFUL EXTRAS

Another milestone has been passed in the interest of the Young People's War by the visit of the Commissioner to Montreal for the Young People's Councils, now recorded as one of the most successful series of gatherings ever held with young Salvationists in Canada's Metropolis.

For an excellent Demonstration, held on Saturday night, the No. 1

Citadel was packed to overflowing. The preliminaries were conducted by Major Macdonald who warmly welcomed the Commissioner. Our Territorial Leader was enthusiastically received, and after a few words of greeting, called upon Colonel Aaby to read an appropriate Scripture portion.

The program which followed was of a very enjoyable character, and the young people certainly excelled themselves, giving evidence of careful preparation. The program included a rousing song by the Montreal I Y.P. Singing Brigade, under the leadership of Ensign McBain; a descriptive piece, sung in French by the youthful members of the French Corps, under the direction of Mrs. Ensign Berger; a dumb-bell drill, by the Verdun Life-Saving Guards, who greatly pleased the audience by their brisk entrance on the run, and the vim and vigor with which every exercise was performed; a skipping drill, by the Montreal I Life-Saving Guards, which not only made interesting drill, but also gave evidence of expert handling of the skipping rope. Bandsman Brick, of Montreal IV, and Bandsman William Campbell, of No. I, rendered mandolin and cornet solos respectively; and the Montreal I Life-Saving Scouts presented a humorous dialogue, "A Perfectly Perfect Boy." A Japanese drill, by the Montreal V young people, made a very pretty picture and provided definite evidence of good training on the leader's part. Mrs. Adj. Robinson and her Bible Class, from the Verdun Corps, gave a realistic impression of The Army's work in the slums, and showed how the Gospel of Jesus Christ meets the need of the destitute and broken. The children from the French Corps evoked considerable applause by their singing of a song composed for the occasion.

The Citadel was well filled for the first meeting on Sunday, and after the opening song, and prayer had been offered by Mrs. Brigadier Green, the young people heartily endorsed the words of greeting to the Commissioner expressed by Major Macdonald on their behalf. The Commissioner spoke of his pleasure at being present, and referred to the fact that as Chief Secretary, along with Colonel Gaskin, who was then Field Secretary, he was present at the first Young People's Day held in Montreal, that happening being registered about eighteen years ago. A mere "handful" of young people were present on that occasion, and the improvement was shown since that time by this gladdening assembly of three hundred and fifty.

The Commissioner's talks during the day were particularly inspiring and helpful in character and received a splendid hearing.

Colonel Aaby led the preliminaries of the afternoon session, and Mrs. Colonel Morehen prayed, following which the Commissioner announced that he was to be helped, and the young people were to be interested, by several other speakers. Amongst those who addressed the session were Captain and Mrs. Littler, who were dressed in native costumes, and spoke of their call to China. The difficulties besetting missionary Officers were vividly described, and it was made apparent that God always stands ready to assist those who obey His call. We thanked God for the great victories recorded of Chinese breaking their idols and accepting Christianity, and praised God for the men and women who are whole-souled for the Salvation of the people living in non-Christian lands. Lieut.-Colonel Clarke, the International Auditor, who was visiting Montreal, spoke interestingly of his travels in various parts of the world, showing how The Salvation Army is meeting the needs of all kinds of people. Adjutant Spooner, the Assistant Territorial Young Peoples' Secretary, also spoke, and two excellent papers were read, one, entitled, "The Salvationist at School," by Corps Cadet Irene Wright, of Montreal V, and "The Salvationist at Business," by Corps Cadet Gladys Ireland, of Montreal I. Both papers were well received.

Colonel Aaby piloted the singing during the day, teaching some new choruses which were quickly learned and heartily sung. In the evening he gave a most forceful address referring to his own early experiences and the great need of taking heed to the great opportunities for service presented by God.

The Citadel was packed for the night meeting, and as Mrs. Major Macdonald and Brigadier Pinchen in turn led the assembly in prayer, God drew very near. The Commissioner dealt with the sins and temptations besetting young lives, and urged all to guard against unholy companionships. He surely made a stirring appeal for clear-cut decisions for God, and for entire surrender to His will and consecration to His service. During the prayer meeting, led alternately by Colonel Aaby and Brigadier Pinchen, the power of God was mightily manifested, and sixty responded, many seeking for restoration and Holiness, and some offering their lives for service as Officers.

Captain and Mrs. Littler

The Young People's Band, under Deputy-Bandmaster Tatchell, rendered excellent service, as did also Mrs. Tatchell at the piano. The Sisters, under the supervision of Brother and Sister Fisher, rendered valued service in providing luncheon and supper for the delegates.

Appointed by the General

The Commissioner announces that the General has appointed Lieut.-Colonel Levi Taylor to be Field Secretary for the Canada East Territory. The Colonel, who is well known and highly esteemed by Salvationists throughout the Dominion, has held the position of Field Secretary in Canada West for a number of years, and has been an Officer since 1886, entering the work from Bowmanville, Ontario. He will bring to his new appointment a wealth of experience.

We congratulate the Colonel on this fresh evidence of the General's confidence in him, and bespeak for him a hearty welcome. Sadness is associated with the Colonel's coming, in that he will not be accompanied by Mrs. Taylor, who, as announced in our last issue, was suddenly promoted to Glory on Thursday morning, February 11th. A photograph and full report of our warrior-sister's life and work will be published in our next issue.

Lieut.-Colonel Taylor will be coming to Toronto from Winnipeg in a few weeks' time, and the welcome meeting will be conducted by the Commissioner in the Toronto Temple on the evening of March 18th.

CADETS' NIGHT AT TORONTO TEMPLE The Commissioner Presides

With the Territorial Commander presiding, a program bubbling over with harmony and happiness was finely rendered by the Training Garrison Cadets on Monday, February 15th, in the Temple.

That it was "Cadets' night" was sufficient to pack the Temple to overflowing, so that many were obliged to stand throughout.

The sight of the splendid crowd, the Commissioner remarked, after being warmly introduced by Colonel Bettridge, was ample reward for his exacting bustle to get there straight from a taxing week-end campaign in Montreal.

Prefacing the program with brief, but pungent comment upon a beautiful Psalm, our Leader then "set the ball rolling" by announcing "In the Firing Line" march, one of the latest musical productions, by the Band.

With such limited time at the disposal of the Band members for practice, it is not a little surprising to find such a competent aggregation of musicians comprising the Band. Their performance on this occasion, was, to say the least, excellent, and we cannot forego at this point, a deserving word of commendation to Sergeant Lorimer, wielder of the baton.

Something new in Cadet programs was the finished exhibition of calisthenics by six agile women Cadets; their smart sailor suits, combined with their smartly-executed movements, earning for them a generous ovation.

Among the many excellent items which might be mentioned were the contributions of the Songster Brigade, which, for effectiveness and delicacy, were unsurpassed. Adjutant Keith might well feel proud of his Brigade! The rendition by female voices of "Wouldst thou live," composed, like the first march, by Adjutant Coles, was most artistic.

A most interesting episode of the evening was the presentation by Colonel Bettridge to the Commissioner, of a cheque for $500, the amount promised by the Training Garrison towards the General's Birthday Scheme. Of this amount the Staff and Cadets have given $184.50. The proceeds of the Cadet Festivals furnished the remainder.

Interested attendants at the Festival were Mrs. Commissioner Sowton and Mrs. Colonel Powley, the latter of whom opened the proceedings with prayer.

OUR LEADER'S FLYING VISIT TO OLD QUEBEC

To quaint Quebec, with its numerous historic associations, Commissioner Sowton, who was accompanied by Colonel Adby, paid a flying visit on Friday, February 12th.

Calvary Wesley Church was kindly loaned for the occasion and a representative audience gathered to hear the Commissioner's programmed lecture on "Social Regeneration." In view of The Army's successful Social Work in this ancient city, the topic was eminently fitting.

His Honor, Judge Gibsons, occupied the chair and spoke in high terms of the activities of Adjutant and Mrs. Major and Captain Hobbins, whose work, he felt, was meeting an urgent need. The Rev. Mr. Wentworth, minister of the Baptist Church, heartily proposed a vote of thanks, and Colonel Adby brightened the proceedings with an inspiring solo. The visit, it is believed, will be productive of much good.

Quebec's contribution to the rank and file of The Army has been a splendid one. On this "honor roll" are included Staff-Captain McHarg, U.S.A., Sergeant-Major Colley, Mrs. Treasurer Douglas, Sister Mrs. Baird and Sister Maggie Clarke, of Montreal I Corps.

"An Army in The Making"

BRIGADIER BERNARD BOOTH'S ILLUSTRATED LECTURE IS APPRECIATED BY LARGE AUDIENCE IN MASSEY HALL

SINCE the beginning of time the heart-beat of humanity has quickened with the story of warfare, and the hearts of the twenty-five hundred people gathered in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Tuesday evening, February 9th, thrilled to the unfolding of the romance attendant upon the mobilization of an Army of warriors for world-wide action on the battlefields of sin.

Musicians in the making

An ideal setting for the presentation of Brigadier Bernard Booth's lecture, "An Army in the Making," the sweeping platform presents a delightful picture of uniformed Salvationism. On the right we see the crimson-coated Bandmen of Earls Court, their shimmering, silver-plated instruments sounding the battle-cry; the left wing supports—a battalion of uniformed Cadets from the Training Garrison, the scarlet insignia of the "Hallelujah" bonnets worn by the Songsters symbolic of the sacrificial Blood of the Christ—the invisible Commander; a vivid bit of color is flung across the centre of the stage by the Koreans and the splendid missionaries—Major and Mrs. Hill—who, dressed in picturesque native costumes, lift their voices in a hymn of praise, sung in a strange tongue but with the understanding heart of the saved. In the midst of these Army troops, stands the Commanding Officer, distinguished in his military bearing, yet the kindness of his smile bespeaking the comradeship ever recognized between Commissioner Sowton and the Soldiers of the Territory.

Standing out in relief from the arresting background, the lecturer—Brigadier Bernard Booth—whose enthusiasm and whose pride in the high calling of his fathers, mixed with simplicity in setting forth the tasks accomplished through the Young People's Work of The Salvation Army, won the hearts of that vast audience, from the wee lassie on her mother's knee to the oldest warrior bowed with age.

Symbolical of the cloak of darkness that ever shrouds the world of sin and the countries sunk in heathenism, were the shadows of the darkened hall, while the flash of exquisitely tinted pictures, all-glorified by invisible light, across the screen, symbolized the power of Salvation and its dominion over sin.

This great "Army in the Making" had its beginning in the cradle, claimed Brigadier Booth, as he presented fascinating slides of little children, who, enrolled on the Cradle Roll of The Army Corps, gradually rose in rank until they became Soldiers and even sometimes Officers. That God is no Respector of persons was emphasized as the Brigadier told stories of boys and girls rescued from slums and homes of dreary environment, who, linked up with The Army, had become leaders and, in turn, rescuers themselves. The hope of the future Army, declared the Brigadier, is the youth of to-day, and with the portrayal of junior organization activities, the audience realized the significance of boyhood and girlhood.

Intensely interesting was the story of the four-fold endeavor of those useful organizations—the Life-Saving Scouts and Guards—Salvation of the body, mind, soul, and others. Permeating the organized training and fun peculiar to these movements and their younger branches—the Sunbeams and the Chums—was the one compelling objective, "To save and to serve." Laughter mingled with seriousness in mastering life's lessons in the Scouting game; buoyancy of spirit walked hand in hand with their earnestness of purpose as camp life was vividly illustrated by the lecturer. Outstanding efficiency and smartness marked the parade of the soldiers-in-the-making.

Ever and anon the spirit of appreciation burst its bounds and the applause of the audience—master craftsmen at hand-clapping the Soldiers of The Army, too—greeted the first glimpse of a Training Garrison, the face of a beloved Leader or a world-renowned Officer.

To far distant countries, where The Army had raised the Flag of Yellow, Red and Blue, carrying its message of the true God to idol-worshippers, Brigadier Booth transported his audience. Pictures of little yellow, black and brown babies, reared in ignorance and sin, tugged hard at the hearts of the Salvationists, who reverently sensed the urge to unfurl The Army Flag in every darkened corner of Japan, China, India and Korea.

"Wherever our Flag flies it stands for protection," declared the Brigadier, comparing The Army's work to a great protecting umbrella, which was illustrated on the screen and underneath which were grouped a crowd of boys and girl representing many nations. This, said the lecturer, was the dream of the Founder.

It was an impressive moment when the Founder's portrait appeared and when there came the vibrant voice of the Founder telling, through the record of the phonograph, a story of life-saving—a man on a shipwrecked vessel sacrificing his gold in order to answer a little girl's appeal, "Please, sir, save me"—such a story as is always applicable to the saving of precious souls. "He being dead yet speaketh," was the thought that predominated as the voice of the beloved Founder, with its irresistible appeal, drifted into silence.

Then came telling stories from the lecturer of the results of youthful conversions and of how even a casual word dropped in a child's ear had oft been the inspiration to a life of incalculable service for God and humanity.

We saw an eighteen-year-old engine cleaner, who might have gone down in history as but one of many thousands of such, but someone dropped a word in the lad's ear and pointed him to Jesus, and he became Commissioner Lawley—the great prayer meeting fighter.

We saw red-shawled Mart, the mill girl, of YOUNG SOLDIER fame. Poor, unpromising, stubborn, outcast; yet one of God's saints cared about her, and she became Brigadier Chipendale, who for long years has worked among the soldiers and sailors.

As there flashed on the screen the picture of Commissioner Lawley, in that well-known prayer meeting attitude, with arms outstretched inviting men and women to the world's Redeemer, Brigadier Booth called for the surrender of hearts to God.

The impressiveness of the moment was deepened as there flashed before the eyes a beautiful picture of the Christ who bore the sins of the world. A momentary hush, then a movement towards the platform, as ten persons, with calm purpose and contrite hearts, bowed before the mercy-seat, humble, penit-tent, and triumphant—a splendid closing picture—and a most powerful one, representative as it was in real life—of the "Army in the Making."

TILL YOU'RE DEAD

By Colonel "Jack" Addie

Tune: "You can't steal aboard and hide away."

You may think your lot is hard
And with mortal wounds you're scarred,
Yet you need no funeral card,
'Till you're dead.
Even tho' you cannot shout,
Grit your teeth and go the route,
For you're never down and out
'Till you're dead.

Chorus:

'Till you're dead, 'till you're dead,
For you're never down and out
'Till you're dead.
Such a fact without a doubt
Puts discouragement to route,
For you're never down and out
'Till you're dead.

When fate thumps you on the nose,
Do not whimper at her blows;
Many never get a rose
'Till they're dead.
Do not grumble, whine or pout,
Keep your heart and courage stout,
For you're never down and out
'Till you're dead.

When the rent is overdue,
And the landlord says he'll sue,
Sure with trouble you're ne'er through
'Till you're dead.
Find the road that leads you out,
When there's a will, there's a way out,
Tho' you're down, you're never out
'Till you're dead.

Stand erect and like a man,
Knows he can, who thinks he can,
Work according to this plan
'Till you're dead,
Then let nothing from without
Or within cause you to doubt,
For you're never down and out
'Till you're dead.

Our Bands must be composed of men who are not only musicians but who are able to fight the Devil, their old lusts and passions, and the worldly spirit round about them, and to do this for Jesus Christ. The Bandsman who cannot fight is not worthy of his cloth, or of his position. We want consecrated men and women who will be known everywhere as the enemies of wrong and the friends of right.—The General.

THE BLACKBOARD

IN THE PRACTICE ROOM

I would like to mention a method I follow in teaching the Brigade.

For five or ten minutes I concentrate on marks used in the piece we are practising, and I write all the expression indications on a blackboard, explaining them at some length. This blackboard is kept in front of the Brigade all the time the selection is being rehearsed.

It is my custom also to invite questions concerning the music, and aided by the facilities afforded by the blackboard, I am able to explain note valuation, rests, and other points which may not be quite clear to new members of the Brigade.

I copied the idea from our Band instructor, who used this method in the Band practice, where it has proved interesting and useful.—X. Y. Z.

Basses may now be taken, testing their middle C, as before, with the C of the standard trombone.

When you have tuned the members of each Bb group separately, test the section together as was done with the cornets.

The Eb Bases should now be taken using their middle G to the middle C of the trombone.

It is now advisable to test the whole Band on its open notes. First take all the Bb instruments, and, commencing with middle C, try the G below, and then the bottom C. Sound the middle C again, and then on to upper E and G. If the result proves satisfactory, follow exactly the same procedure with the full set of Eb instruments.

Having accomplished the tuning of the open notes of the whole Band (excepting the G trombone which must wait patiently awhile), the Bandmaster can now essay the tuning of the first valves. To tune the Bb cornets on this valve, let the soprano sound his C (this, of course, is already tuned, and the cornets, F. Tune each instrument singly and then test the whole section together, as before.

Use the horns as your standard in tuning the other Bb instruments; the C of the horns, of course, being tested with the F of the Baritones, Euphoniums and Bb Basses. Follow the previous course of taking each instrument singly, and then the section in groups and finally the whole of the Bb instruments on the F.

To tune the first valve of the Eb instruments, the Bb cornet must be taken as the standard. Now that the cornet F is in tune, his Bb (obtained with the same first valve) will, of course, be automatically tuned. The F of the Eb instruments may now be tuned by the Bb of the cornet. Take the Eb instruments in rotation as previously.

It will be as well now to test the whole Band on its first valve notes, taking the Bb and Eb instruments in separate groups, of course. Start on F, first space, and then try Bb above and the upper D and F. There is no need to try the extremes, for if the middle compass is well tuned, the extremes can be left to look after themselves.—B.C.

CARRYING A BASS

It will be obvious to all that this is the correct way of carrying a bass, and yet many instrumentalists cling to the method depicted below. To the technical onlooker it gives the impression that the player is either a weak "backed" or weak "lunged" individual, while critical passers-by might ask if he is giving a demonstration as to the way in which to carry a heavy infant.

In the correct way it will be noticed that the instrument is carried easily, giving the lungs ample opportunity for free expansion. It also improves the appearance of the whole Band, often marred by the presence of an "ugly carrier." The comrade making this suggestion has had years of experience with military and Army Bands, and, having marched hundreds of miles with his bass, has proved the great benefit of the easy way. He does not advocate the use of a strap for Eb bombardons if it can be avoided, as a strap entails an unnecessary amount of restriction, hampering the free movement of the body and lungs without a corresponding advantage in bearing the weight of the instrument.

Riverdale Band week-end will be held on February 27th, 28th and March 1st. There will be an interesting musical event on the Saturday evening, and a Band program on the Monday.

MY EXPERIENCES OF TROMBONE PLAYING

By Bandsman J. Wilkinson,

MONTREAL I

As we have already seen, the trombone is a very old instrument, being used in the year 685 B.C. and being called the broken trumpet, which means that it must be played somewhat like a trumpet. There are some players who do not realize this; but produce a tone similar to that of a flugel horn.

The tongue must play a very important part in trombone playing because trombones are of extreme usefulness in giving attack to chords, and are used by composers largely for this purpose.

The trombone player has a lot to learn in the way of correct slurring, for this is a very hard instrument to slur on. We often hear a good many quarter tones when we listen to some of the players, not only in Salvation Army Bands, but in Military Bands.

What struck me away back in the summer when I was listening to a Band in one of our parks, was the four trombone players puffing their cheeks out. You will admit that this does not look very attractive, and I am sure it does not improve the tone. One thing I used to do, when learning to play an instrument, was to look into a mirror to see whether I was blowing my cheeks out.

Another important point in trombone playing is phrasing. It is here that most of us fail; for this is one of the hardest things the trombone player has to deal with. If we can take two bars of slow common time without breaking the phrase, we are doing well.

Most of the trombone solos in our Selections are of the slow melody character and they need a good deal of practice to correctly phrase.

How often one hears a two-syllable word cut in two, not because the soloist couldn't avoid the fault, but because he had not learned the proper way to phrase.

Another error often made is in not giving the notes full value, a semi-breve being held out three beats.

Then we have another obstacle to overcome. This is the cadenza. What mishandling takes place here. Just fancy trying to tear through the cadenza in "Precious Thoughts," and on the other hand one hears the cadenza in "Beulah Land," dragged to pieces.

The trombone has been very fortunate up to now in the Army Journals in not having many difficult cadenzas. The solos are a bit more difficult on account of being in flat keys. I wonder how many trombone players can produce the fine G on their instrument, starting from pedal G, next the bottom G, and so on until the G above the staff is reached? This can be accomplished with practice, although it may be hard for some to believe.

One thing I noticed while I was playing in the orchestra at the college was that the 1st trombone music from the old masters was written in the alto clef. This means, of course, that you have got to do some playing above the staff—as far as top E sometimes, while the second trombone will go as far as top Bb.

Then again we see the trombone descending to peddle C in the treble clef. This, of course, is much easier than playing above the staff. Thus, it will be gathered that the range of the trombone is an extensive one.

A useful device in trombone playing is the trombone ballancer. For myself, I think these save your arm from a lot of aching, and you will find that you can use your slide with much greater facility and thus with a consequent gain in efficiency.

DAILY HELPS

Sunday

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills.

Monday

The great test question of my life is not the amount of pleasure I have got out of it.

Tuesday

Human life becomes very poor when we shut out of it all faith and hope of the dawning of a new and better day.

Wednesday

There never was a day so cloudy that there was no hint of sunshine in it.

Thursday

If work is never done, opportunities remain with it.

Friday

Those who stood about the cross of Christ saw only terrible tragedy, but we know He saved His life by giving it up.

Saturday

We are not afraid of Christianity dying; we are more afraid of its not being willing to die.

GUARD SECRETS

The biggest people in the world in the way of character and standing are those who know the most about everything and everybody and who tell the least. To peddle news promiscuously is not a sign of smartness. It is proof that you are petty-minded; that your experience is limited and your viewpoint warped. It shows you are long on egotism and short on judgment.

Try to discourage others from undressing their souls in your presence. Naked minds are always embarrassing. But if a friend insists upon sharing the secret of her life guard it as you would a government bond or the keys to your safety deposit vault. She has given you something of herself.

THE BAIRNS

Oh, let the bairnies play themsel's,
I like to hear their din,
I like to hear each restless foot
Come trippin' oot and in;
I like to see each face sae bricht,
And each wee heart sae gay:
They mind me o' my ain young days—
Oh, let the bairnies play!

And never try to set a heid,
Wi' auld age grim and grey,
Upon a wee, saft, snawy neck—
No, let the bairnies play!
For, Oh, there's mony a weary night
And mony a woful day
Before them, if God spare their lives—
Sae let the bairnies play!

HANDY HINTS

1.—When putting snap fasteners on a dress sew the snappers on one side of the goods, chalk and press on the other side. As the marks show clearly where the fasteners are to go, tedious measuring and pinning are done away with. This method is a great time saver.

2.—When celery is scarce, chop cabbage fine and mix generously with celery seed. This is an admirable substitute.

WHAT'S IN A SPOON?

A dessertspoon equals two teaspoons.

A saltspoon usually equals one-half teaspoon.

A tablespoon equals three teaspoons.

LETTER TO MOTHERS

BY MRS. GENERAL BOOTH

My dear Comrades:—

I am glad of the opportunity of greeting the mothers.

First, I would heartily congratulate them, for their vocation of motherhood is the highest, holiest, and should be the happiest on earth. The mothers in every nation have the best opportunity of forming the character of the people and of influencing the country for good or evil. So I would say to every mother: Magnify your opportunity. Raise a high standard in your own heart for the training of your children. Make up your mind so far as you have the power—and in the early days your power is very great—that your sons shall love God, that they shall be honorable men, that they shall be pure and tender-hearted, and that your daughters shall be courageous, generous and faithful women.

Next to the gift of His Son, whom He gave by a woman, God gave the highest manifestation of His love to the world in the creation of woman. It has been beautifully said that "she was created not to feel happiness herself, but to make it for others." Yes, this is woman's high and holy mission everywhere. To the mother special opportunities have been given. She is the home-maker. She shares the responsibilities and the government of the home with the father. She is specially appointed by God to be the helpmeet; she is the executive of the father in the kingdom of the family. The family is the unit of every nation, for nations are but great collections of families.

The time of trouble and stress of war have revealed the capacity and value of women in many directions. Woman has, in a sense, come into her own in a way she has never known before. We rejoice in this, but it is more than ever important we should remember that no work of national importance justifies any mother neglecting her home, for true home-making and the preservation of her own strength for bringing children into the world and caring for them after they are born is infinitely beyond any other work.

It is no exaggeration to say that the very existence of the nation depends upon the mother. We mourn the losses which the World War brought upon the manhood of the nation, but a far greater loss has been going on day by day in the death of infants and young children who have been lost through the inability of mothers to give the care necessary to their nurture and upbringing. So to every mother whom my words can reach, I would say, magnify your office; let God, from ability of mothers to give the care necessary to their nurture and upbringing. So to every mother whom my words can reach, I would say, magnify your office; let God, from whose hand the first mother came forth as His last work, be glorified in you, in the family of which you are queen, and in the children He has trusted to your keeping.

To our mothers of the Home League I would say that ours is a still more wonderful vocation. The opportunities open to The Army in the service of God's Kingdom all over the world are greater than ever, and it is to us that God has entrusted that high and holy duty, not only replenishing the earth, but of raising up a people who shall be separate from the world and consecrated to God's service.

When the time has come for our children to leave the shelter of the home, like Hannah of old, we have the opportunity of lending them to the Lord to accomplish His service. I believe that in a remarkable way God has in the past—and will more than ever in the future—fulfil for The Salvation Army in their children this promise. "Their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people. All that see them shall acknowledge that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed."

I pray God's blessing upon you, that by His Holy Spirit we mothers may all say, with the mother of our Lord, "Be it unto me according to Thy Word."

Yours under the Yellow, Red and Blue.

LEARN TO LIKE PEOPLE

"Learn to like people and people will soon learn to like you," some one has said. And in these words is the secret of having many friends in your neighborhood. The people who live on your road and on the cross roads, the people who live in the Scotch Bush and in Snake Creek Hollow will all be friends of yours, if you cherish a friendly feeling toward them. In other words you can have just as many friends among the folk, old and young, who are within neighboring distance as you are capable of being friendly toward.

EVERY GIRL SHOULD LEARN

To sew.
To cook.
To mend.
To be gentle.
To value time.
To dress neatly.
To keep a secret.
To avoid idleness.
To darn stockings.
To respect old age.
To make good bread.
To keep a house tidy.
To control her temper.
To be above gossiping.
To sweep down cobwebs.
To take care of the baby.
To read the very best books.
To marry a man for his worth.
To keep clear of trashy literature.
To be womanly under all circumstances.

LOVE FOR CHILDREN

Some people without children seem to have complete lives, but they are only a few. In these days, when we are so keenly interested in the future, in new forms of education, and in the actual instincts of the species, it seems as if children have more to add to our lives even than formerly. No parent worthy of the name can be an egotist, a neurotic, narrow, vain or weak. No parent with any mind at all can help feeling close to the springs of life, and in touch with the cradle of the race. The same extended reality may be obtained by teachers, or by others in helpful and steady contact with the young but the person on whom the children make none of their confident demands, whom they never consult about the rules of life and the opening wonders of Nature, is all too likely, as he grows old, to lose the youthfulness that stays with the fortunate to the end.

HOT DRINKS FOR COLD DAYS

Egg Chocolate.—Take one pint of milk, one and a half teaspoonfuls of grated sweet chocolate, one tablespoonful of sugar, and one egg. Mix the chocolate and sugar with a very little milk. Heat the remaining milk and mix in. Cook in a double saucepan till thickening, then stir in the beaten egg. Cook for one and a half minutes.

Hot Orangeade.—Needs one orange, one egg, sugar, hot water and nutmeg. Squeeze the juice of the orange into a glass, add the egg well beaten and sugar to taste. Fill up with boiling water and grate some nutmeg on the top.

Hot Tomato Drink.—One half ounce of beef extract, two teaspoonfuls of tomato ketchup, hot water and seasoning. Put beef extract, tomato ketchup and seasoning into half-pint cup and barely fill with boiling water. Stir.

BEAT IN AIR

Canned corn should be opened an hour or so before using. It should be aerated by being beaten with a spoon, preferably at an open window. Then it should be slowly heated with rich milk and plenty of butter.

FINE LIST OF INCREASES—NO DECREASES!

GOOD NEWS FORCES TOMMY BRIGHT TO BREAK OUT IN VERSE—HAS SAME EFFECT ON LIEUT. PILFREY OF WHITBY—MONCTON CREATES NEW RECORD—BATTLE OF TORONTO WAGES MERRILY

My friends—I feel forced to address you in verse—or worse. Thusly:
Though the Summer's all gone bust,
And the weather's at its wust,
And the sky is grey and low
(All around me I see snow);

BOOMERS GALLERY

SISTER MRS. ORVIS,
Riverdale

Though its blowing half a gale
(Mixed with great big lumps of hail),
With-it-all I'm bright and gay,
For I've had good news to-day.
Though I'm told a deep depression
(Not the old one but a fresh 'un)
Is a-coming from the East,
I'm not minding in the least.
'Cos you see; the news is bonzo
Of the Battle of Toronto.

In other, and more coherent words, things east and west of Yonge Street are buzzing along more than merrily. In fact life is becoming increasingly joyous; so much so that when I'm not warming my half-frozen nose at the fire I'm thinking of holidays; where, 'neath the cooling wind-blown spray, I'll lie and loaf the live-long day, a-thinking thoughts too deep to utter (the while I'm munching scones and butter); and so on!
But before I do anything half as rash, I'll tell you the news that's caused this crash. Fact is; from all parts of the country come

Reports of Increases.
There's no end to 'em, they almost haunt me . . . last night I dreamed about them, and now the Editor tells me my middle name is Increases.
The high-light in the increases is Dovercourt, which has shot up fifty copies. This is, as a greater than I has previously remarked, the material to administer. Then there's Whitby and Aurora and, tell it wide, Lippincott, each of whom have given the SOSM signal, meaning, as all the increasers now, Send On Some More—in these three cases, thirty more.
Additional, and emphatically so, comes Fredericton with a highly creditable increase of thirty-five, and Yorkville with another twenty-five, making two hundred increase in four weeks.
As a matter of fact it was Whitby that inoculated me with the verse-germ. Lieutenant Gordon Pilfrey, the energetic Commanding Officer, set me a good example with this:—
THE WAR CRY we'll sell,
The Gospel to tell,
And sinners for God we will win;
So let us fall in

And boost the sale,
And our order will tell the tale.
The "tale" in the case of Whitby is 155-powered. The Lieutenant writes:
"We recently held a WAR CRY meeting. The Scripture lesson was taken from the 'Family Circle' column and THE WAR CRY was read and used to good advantage. The object of the publishing and selling of THE WAR CRY, also the opportunity and the blessed work in selling it, were pointed out. More Boomers were called for and two volunteered their services. These, along with the other Boomers, will spread the Gospel by this White-winged Messenger. A special WAR CRY chorus was composed by the writer for the occasion. It goes to the tune of "The gate is ajar." (Printed above).
"Kindly put us among the 'Happy Hustlers' by increasing our order to 155, an increase of 30 copies."
And among the "Happy Hustlers" you'll find 'em.
Then there's "Mother" Sanders, of Kingston, whose photo will appear next week. She is a dandy boomer and, though 68 years of age, puts many young 'uns to shame. For the past fourteen years she has boomed in the business section of the town, and during these Winter months she sells 160 copies weekly—except last week.
Let us tell you what happened last week—"Mother" Sanders sent out

The "S-O-S-M" Message
She wanted another 25 copies; thus she is disposing of 185 weekly, and will sell over 200 when the warmer weather comes.
Fine-o!
"Mother" Sanders does wonders. I wish that warmer weather would come—Sing a song of Summer,
Sing it through the nose;

Oh, my hands are freezing
An' my toes are froze.
Which might be much badderer than it is. So might the weather. In fact, the weather clerk himself thought so, cos he tried to mend his ways the other day, but—
When the Summer opens,
And birds begin to sing,
"Mother" Sanders will boom away
And increase like anything!
You'll notice that "opens" and "away" don't rhyme. But I figured that it was more important to say "Boom away" than make a forced rhyme. And so does friend Falle, of Kingston, who has made three increases in six months, a total of 100, bringing the Corps sales up to 325. "And," says he, "we will reach the 400 soon."
So sez all of us.
And now let me return to the Battle of Toronto, towards which the eyes of the world are turned. The latest communique from the battlefield shows that the East-ers have still got it on the forces under the command of Brigadier Burrows, although, mind you, the West-ers have.
Done Very Well
this week, thanks to Oakville going up as well as Aurora and Rowntree, and the aforementioned Corps of Dovercourt. In the East, Riverdale has not only left Moncton I behind, but by its raise of another forty-five copies, it shows its heels to Hamilton I, and now occupies fourth place in the Champion Class, and if I am not mistaken Ottawa I and Hamilton IV and even Halifax I Corps are going to know more about Riverdale before long.
Next week, I hope to be in the position to report even more sensational happenings from the battlefield. Watch this page!

I'm waiting for Peterboro to move. Field-Major Higdon, who did so well at St. Thomas, has not made his Long-awaited Spurt.

He should give his old Corps a good run. St. Thomas is at 300 and the Electric City at 225. I know things are none too bright, industrially speaking, in the city, but I'm sure THE CRY sales could be pushed along a little. I met a man from Peterboro yesterday who told me that he wanted THE WAR CRY, and in order to get it regularly gave a year's order to Headquarters, and it is mailed to him each week. He, and others like him, ought to be on some Boomer's book.
And now for dropping the chin-music and getting down to business. There's much to be done if you are out and run the flag to the masthead. So get down to it and work while it is day, for the night cometh when no man works. Don't be like the fellow I met the other day who unblushingly declared that he believed in being lazy. If he could have put his beliefs into rhyme he'd have used words like these: "There's nothing I would like to do so much as lie and shirk, and think of all the rest of you perspiring at your work." To such I would unhesitatingly reply: "If life were only loafing in idle content, it would be very nice indeed—but who would pay the rent?"

To Shout Victory
Moral: If you want to succeed you must work, work hard and

Keep on Working.
This especially applies to Booming, which is work of eternity-worth. Saints are in Glory to-day as the result of a WAR CRY. Hell is the poorer because some Boomer supplied the White-winged Messenger of Salvation to a despairing heart.
You are engaged in vital business. Business that affects three worlds. Get down to it then, and make certain that no stone is left unturned to ensure that the work is well done. Then we can dance and shout and sing and make the heavenly arches ring. I want YOU among the dancers. But you can't dance unless you report victory.
Now for it. This week must be a stunner. Every Boomer must get one new customer. Every Corps must make a dozen increase. Wire at once.

And, let me remind you, that I am here as an expository of your confidences—I want to hear of your joys and triumphs. And defeats, for that matter. So write to me. Write now—right now.
And, incidentally, let me tell you that I'm not a magician nor have I tele-vision. If you don't write and give me details of your work I can't record it here. I particularly want the name of every Boomer who sells 25 copies or over. Fire them at me so that we can extend the "Crusading Canucks."
For next week your motto must be: Pray—Work—Boom—Write!
And now I must close and go for my doze; so I wish you good night.
TOMMY BRIGHT.

A Trade Representative IS Coming Your Way

Comrades in the undermentioned Corps will be glad to learn that the Commissioner has appointed Adjutant Porter to visit their Corps for the purpose of displaying and selling many Salvationists' supplies—books and articles of serviceable equipment.

The Adjutant is particularly interested in taking measurements for Men's and Women's Uniforms, and he will welcome and treat with courteous interest all enquirers.

We trust the Adjutant's visit to your Corps will be a source of blessing, and form a link between the Trade Department and Comrades in distant Corps which it is difficult to form apart from personal interview.

CONSIDER YOUR TRADE NECESSITIES

PRELIMINARY ANNOUNCEMENT. With the approach of Spring, the Trade Department is thinking of Straw Hats for ladies. This year we hope to surpass anything we have ever had before in comfort and appearance.

Watch for Further Announcements.

HOW DOES YOUR UNIFORM DRESS LOOK? We ask you this, remembering that the time is near at hand when overcoats will be laid aside. If you wish to order a new one-piece uniform dress, now is the best time, as our Dressmaking Department is in a position to give your order their most careful attention before the actual Spring and Summer rush starts.

A NEW ARRIVAL. We have received from the Old Country splendid records of one of England's finest Brass Bands, viz., St. Hilda's Colliery. These records are sold in sets of two. They are 10 in. double-sided records, and are a splendid reproduction of the Crystal Palace contest piece for last year—"Joan of Arc."

Price $1.10, post paid.

These will be carefully packed, but shipped at owner's risk.

MEN'S CAPS. Have you heard of the great reduction in the price of Uniform Caps? The quality has been improved and the price considerably reduced.

Superfine quality, $4.00 post paid.

The quality of this cap positively cannot be beaten. It is built to wear, and has behind it the experience of the finest cap manufacturers in the Dominion.

Quality A, $2.85 post paid.

A very fine cap, suitable for all ranks. Will stand up against bad weather, and is made for head comfort.

REMEMBER! These prices include postage, band and crest. This price cannot be beaten and certainly not the quality!

OFFICERS' SPEAKERS. Our Dressmaking Department is becoming very busy making Speaker Suits for Officers. If you want your's for the Spring, you should order at once.

Write for prices and further particulars to

A Gallant Trio

SIMCOE
Captain and Mrs. Everitt

We recently held a two days series of special meetings, which proved to be very beneficial to our own comrades as well as to many friends who also attended. Adjutant and Mrs. Laing, from Brantford 1, spent a Sunday with us, which was much enjoyed. One sinner sought Christ, while another found Salvation during the week at a cottage prayer meeting. Three of our Bandmen held two rousing open-air in a poor district previous to the cottage meeting. Our recent converts are taking their stand and are able to give wonderful testimonies to God's power to keep. In a recent oratorical competition, Corps Cadet Cyril Everitt spoke on The Salvation Army's work, its Founder and history, his talk being referred to in the press as the most interesting number on the program.

MONTREAL II

Adjutant and Mrs. Martin

Commandant and Mrs. Campbell were here last week-end. On Saturday evening an impressive lantern service was given entitled, "From Bethlehem to Calvary." Mrs. Commandant Campbell gave a stirring address in the Holiness meeting, and in the afternoon, Sergeant Tate, who has been very ill, was present and gave his testimony in song. Recruiting-Sergeant Mrs. Boswell and Brother Puttick spoke at night, their testimonies proving very inspiring, and the Commandant followed with an earnest invitation to the unsaved. On Thursday evening we held the annual Young People's Tea and a very happy time was spent.—Corr. C. C. Bleasdale.

LIPPINCOTT

Adjutant and Mrs. Speller

On a recent Sunday we had with us Envoys Blaney, from Hamilton. In the afternoon the Envoys gave an interesting talk on "Six months work with The Salvation Army Batteries." The Band and Songsters are doing well.

Last Sunday profitable meetings were led by Captain Smith and her father, Envoy Smith. The meetings were times of blessing. We have increased our WAR CRY order to the tune of thirty copies. (Well done!—Ed.)

WOODBINE

Captain Burrows, Lieutenant Jolly

On January 31st, Cadets Mrs. Murray and Butcher took a prominent part both in the open-air and indoor meetings. We were much blessed by their messages, and at the end of the day one young lad gave his heart to God.

Snow-Shoed Five Miles to Find God

MONCTON I

Commandant and Mrs. Hargrove

Last week-end's meetings were conducted by the Corps Cadets. On Saturday night Cadets Roberts and Gallant rendered a very interesting program. The Holiness meeting was conducted by Cadet E. White, assisted by the Brigade. Four seekers knelt at the penitential-form, one of them being a young man who had snow-shoed five miles to be converted. After testifying in the open-air meeting at night he started out in happy spirits to snow-shoe the five miles home. A very interesting program in the afternoon, arranged by Cadets Douthwright and Murray, drew a full house and was well-received. The meeting at night was conducted by Cadet W. White, with all of the Brigade taking part. Five seekers at the mercy-seat was the visible result.

LISGAR STREET

Adjutant and Mrs. Condie

During the past three weeks much of God's Spirit has been felt in the meetings. On a recent Thursday evening, a lecture entitled, "The Spell of the Holy Land," was largely attended and much good derived therefrom. The week-end meetings were in the hands of our own Officers. The Rev. Mr. Bailey lectured in the interests of Prohibition during the afternoon meeting. In the prayer meeting at night two seekers were registered. Mrs. Captain Sparks, daughter of our Officers, was a visitor for the week-end, and her singing and definite testimony were a blessing to all.

Crowned!

Lieutenant Francis EVENDEN Answers The Roll Call

"Francis Evenden — Crowned!" read the triumphant inscription on the casket. In the pocket Testament of this promoted warrior, which is well-thumbed and marked, Paul's thrilling farewell message was underscored: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith: henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness."

"Francis Evenden—Crowned!" It is in this comforting assurance that parents, brothers, and dear ones are resting. True, a certain air of mystery lurks behind the tragic passing of the Lieutenant. He was in the heyday of youth, with the pleasing prospect of a useful life of Officership before him, in which he had already made a splendid beginning.

Born of Salvationist parents who are well known and highly respected in this country and in the Old Land, Francis was not seriously considered by his parents among the "eligibles" of their family for the ranks of Officership for several reasons. But to the surprise of all acquainted with him, he one night was seen at the Altar, and, following a terrific spiritual struggle, made the announcement that he had received the Call.

On leaving the Training Garrison in 1924, he was appointed to Thedford; a year later to Mount Forest and, by a peculiar coincidence, at the death of Captain Nevill in September, last year, he was appointed to succeed him at Seaford. Suffering from a recurrence of a former malady, he battled against it for some time, loath to relinquish his much-loved work, but a few weeks ago, at the physician's advice, he entered Hamilton Hospital to undergo a serious operation. This was apparently successful, but unforeseen complications arose, making a second operation imperative. His weakened frame, however, precluded any hope of rallying, and he passed out in the evening of February 6th, and although not without suffering, yet with unshaken faith.

A few hours before his death, with his loved ones grouped about his bed, he sang, with them:

"We're in the Father's care;
His ear is open to every earnest prayer:

We'll rest upon His love
Till He takes us Home above:
Safe from harm and alarm,
We're in the Father's care."

Just before crossing the River, he murmured faintly, "Home! Home! Home! Home!"

The promotion of our young comrade has caused widespread sympathy, resulting in the receipt by the parents, of many messages of condolence, including one from Commissioner and Mrs. Sowton. It was, therefore, not surprising that, at the funeral service, held on Tuesday, February 9th, the Hamilton I. Citadel, from which Corps the Lieutenant entered the Training Garrison, should be filled with a throng of sympathizers. The ceremony was conducted by Lieut.-Colonel McAmmond, under whom the Lieutenant had spent his brief time in the Field. Those were indeed hallowed moments, and many tender tributes were paid to the memory of the deceased. Lieutenant Tidman spoke of him as not only an indefatigable worker and a thoroughly efficient Officer, but as a cheery pal through whose association he felt spiritually benefited.

Lieut.-Colonel McAmmond spoke

T.H.Q. Officer Farewells

NORTH TORONTO
Captains Dunkley and Chapman

Captain Yost, who was a former Corps Officer here, and who, since her transfer to Territorial Headquarters, has Soldiered with us, was in charge of the meetings last week-end and said words of farewell at both the Senior and Young People's gatherings. The Captain has been an exemplary Soldier and we shall miss her. Her services as a Company Guard, and for a time as a Songster, as well as her splendid help as accompanist, were all of a high order. She has inspired us by her sterling Soldiership. In her testimony in the morning meeting she said, "I have no other desire than to continue to serve in the ranks of The Salvation Army." During the Salvation meeting, representative speakers, including Major Calvert and the Corps Treasurer, voiced their appreciation of the Captain's labors here. Captain Dunkley also spoke of the faithfulness of Captain Yost. A helpful prayer meeting resulted in two seekers finding their way to the Cross.

DANFORTH

Ensign and Mrs. Larmar, Lieutenant Matthews

The services last Sunday were conducted by Staff-Captain Adams, of the Training Garrison staff, and were productive of bringing special blessing to the Corps. The Brigade of Cadets assisted throughout the day, and farewelled. The exegesis of the songs, as given by the Staff-Captain, was of special interest, as also were his words on the subject of "Real Religion." His striking truths stirred the hearts of the hearers. The Staff-Captain urged all to put their theology into action, showing in a word picture how Jesus repudiated the mere external worship of the Scribes and Pharisees. An attentive crowd, influenced by the two previous meetings of the day, gathered for the night service. Cadet Barrett sang an effective solo and Cadets Inge and Murray each spoke words of exhortation and farewell, in turn thanking the comrades of the Corps for their kindness to the Cadets during their stay. Staff-Captain Adams again delivered an inspiring message and very clearly brought before the people the fact that they must individually make the choice between Heaven and Hell. Five seekers knelt at the mercy-seat, claiming pardon. The day closed with much rejoicing and it was conceded by all to have been one of the best week-ends for some time. The Revival fire is burning and steady progress is being made in all branches.

HAMILTON IV

Adjutant and Mrs. Graves

Last week-end the meetings were led by Field-Major and Mrs. Walton. We started off well on Saturday night with a Hallelujah Praise meeting, when the Field-Major gave the story of his conversion. From the commencement of Sunday's meetings we felt the influence of God's presence. The address on "Hope" was full of spiritual food, and Heavenly light fell. What a glorious sight at the close to see a stream of seekers obeying the Voice of God and coming to the Altar, until fifteen men and women were kneeling there. The afternoon Praise meeting was another "joy burst." In this service, the two children of Brother Hart were dedicated. The Salvation meeting found all ready for the fight. The enrolment of two Soldiers was an impressive episode in this service. Field-Major Walton fired hot Gospel shot, and while he wrestled, prayer and faith won, and seven seekers knelt at the mercy-seat. Mrs. Walton's talks, both morning and night, were means of blessing and inspiration. The Band and Songsters rendered good assistance. In the afternoon the Field-Major paid a tribute to the splendid Young People's Corps and spoke words of encouragement to the Young People's workers.

VERDUN

Adjutant and Mrs. Robinson

With the young people away at Councils, the fighting Soldierly was considerably depleted; but those at home rendered yeoman service. In the morning everybody was blessed. The afternoon Free-and-easy was of a bright character, and at night the address was delivered with power. In the prayer meeting, a woman rose immediately the invitation was given and cried for pardon.—Corr. E. A. King.
